

Public Interest Disclosure Policy

Section 1 - Purpose and Scope

(1) As a public sector entity established under the University of Queensland Act 1998, The University of Queensland (the University) is subject to the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010 (PID Act). This Policy applies to University Senate Members, employees and others (in particular circumstances) who make a disclosure in accordance with the PID Act. This Policy and supporting procedures are intended to give effect to the PID Act.

(2) Among the purposes of the PID Act is provision of a structure to encourage the reporting and management of Public Interest Disclosures (PIDs) and for the protection from reprisal of persons making a PID to the University. The purpose of this Policy and its procedures is to establish a system for the management of PIDs at the University in accordance with the PID Act.

(3) The Policy and its procedures are designed to complement normal communication channels between supervisors and University employees. University employees are encouraged to continue to raise appropriate matters at any time with their supervisors – however some matters may require the making of a Public Interest Disclosure in accordance with this Policy.

(4) This Policy and the supporting procedures set out the framework for the management and the process for making Public Interest Disclosures at the University as required by the PID Act and the Public Interest Disclosure Standard No. 1, Queensland Ombudsman.

Section 2 - Principles and Key Requirements

(5) The University of Queensland is committed to the objectives of the PID Act. The University recognises the value and importance of contributions of University employees in enhancing administrative and management practices and strongly supports public interest disclosures being made. The University considers public interest disclosures are an important component of ensuring its employees uphold the highest standard of integrity and accountability. The making of public interest disclosures is in accordance with the University's ethical culture, in particular, acting with integrity.

(6) When a public interest disclosure is reported, the University is committed to:

- a. properly assessing and, where appropriate, properly investigating the disclosure;
- b. taking action to protect disclosers from reprisals;
- c. where required, taking action on any wrongdoing in relation to the disclosure (reprisals); and
- d. keeping the discloser informed of the progress and outcome of the investigation, subject to privacy and confidentiality obligations;
- e. taking appropriate remedial actions to improve any failings identified as a result of a PID being made;
- f. taking appropriate action in the event that wrongdoing is identified as a result of a PID being made;
- g. applying the principles of procedural fairness in dealing with the PID.

(7) The protections under the PID Act apply to a person who makes a public interest disclosure, based on an honest belief, on reasonable grounds, about the conduct or other matter disclosed. However, it is a criminal offence under the PID Act to make a public interest disclosure to intentionally provide information that is false or misleading. Further, the making of a false and misleading disclosure may also result in disciplinary action being commenced against the discloser.

What is a Public Interest Disclosure

(8) For information to be a Public Interest Disclosure, the following three elements must be satisfied.

A Public Interest Disclosure is a disclosure comprising:

(9) For a University Senate Member or University employee, information about:

- a. the conduct of another person that could, if proved, be corrupt conduct or maladministration that adversely affects a person's interest in a substantial or specific way; or
- b. a substantial misuse of public resources (other than an alleged misuse based on mere disagreement over policy that may properly be adopted about amounts, purposes or priorities of expenditure); or
- c. a substantial and specific danger to public health or safety; or
- d. a substantial and specific danger to the environment.

(10) For any person, information about:

- a. a substantial and specific danger to the health or safety of a person with a disability; or
- b. the commission of an offence against a provision listed in Schedule 2 of the PID Act that would be a substantial and specific danger to the environment; or
- c. a contravention of a condition imposed under a provision listed in Schedule 2 of the PID Act, if the contravention is or would be a substantial and specific danger to the environment; or
- d. the conduct of another person that could, if proved, be a reprisal.

Disclosure must be appropriate

(11) The information being disclosed must be information which:

- a. the person making the disclosure honestly believes on reasonable grounds that the information tends to show a matter in clauses 9 or 10; or
- b. in fact tends to show a matter in clauses 9 or 10.

Disclosure must be to a Proper Authority

(12) The information must be information in respect of which the University is a proper authority as defined in Section 6 of this Policy.

Rights of Subject Officers (those that have had a PID made against them)

(13) In managing any PID, the University will observe the principles of procedural fairness.

Section 3 - Roles, Responsibilities and Accountabilities

Vice-Chancellor and President

(14) As CEO of the organisation, the Vice-Chancellor and President has the overall responsibility for the University's management of Public Interest Disclosures and in ensuring the effectiveness of this Policy.

Director, Integrity Unit

(15) The Director, Integrity Unit is responsible for enabling and ensuring adherence with this Policy and the supporting procedures and is responsible for issues related to the management of Public Interest Disclosures.

University Staff

(16) University employees have a responsibility to make Public Interest Disclosures about actual or suspected instances of corrupt conduct, maladministration, wastage of University funds, substantial and specific dangers to public safety, the environment or a person with a disability, and reprisal action.

(17) University employees also have an important role in supporting people who have made disclosures and must abstain from any conduct that is or could be perceived as a reprisal.

Students, Stakeholders and Members of the Community

(18) Students and anyone who has dealings with the University have the right to voice their concerns and to make a Public Interest Disclosure under this Policy.

(19) Detailed responsibilities relating to the management of Public Interest Disclosures at the University are provided in sections 1 and 2 of this Policy and in the procedures.

Section 4 - Monitoring, Review and Assurance

(20) The Integrity Unit will periodically review this Policy and its procedures for its effectiveness.

Section 5 - Recording and Reporting

(21) The management of Public Interest Disclosures received by the University will be recorded using existing complaint management systems. The Integrity Unit will also submit anonymised data as required, to the PID database managed by the Office of the Ombudsman \(Queensland\).
