

Academic Calendar Procedure

Section 1 - Purpose and Scope

(1) This Procedure establishes the requirements for the development and approval of the Academic Calendar. This Procedure enacts the Admission Policy.

Section 2 - Process and Key Controls

(2) The Academic Calendar of The University of Queensland is published on the Academic Calendar website and internal resources such as wall planners. Dates are determined with regard to the Higher Education Support Act 2003 and advice provided by Universities Australia.

(3) Approved variations to the Academic Calendar and teaching periods are published on myUQ.

(4) Enrolment deadlines approved under this Procedure are published:

- a. in the Academic Calendar (for semesters, trimesters, research quarters and teaching periods);
- b. on my.UQ (for teaching periods and approved course-specific variations); and
- c. on mySI-net for flexibly scheduled courses.

Section 3 - Key Requirements

Academic Calendar

(5) The Academic Calendar is approved by the Vice-Chancellor and comprises of:

- a. three semesters (Semester 1, Semester 2 and Summer Semester):
 - i. commencement dates;
 - ii. revision and examination periods;
 - iii. mid-semester breaks, end of semester breaks, and public holidays.
- b. an orientation week preceding the commencement of Semester 1 and Semester 2.
- c. graduation periods following Semesters 1 and 2.

(6) A semester is a standard study period.

(7) Student Enrolments and Fees is responsible for preparing the Academic Calendar, normally two years in advance of the applicable academic year it takes effect. Following consultation with key stakeholders, the draft Academic Calendar is endorsed by the Deputy Director, Academic Services and referred to the Committee for Academic Programs Policy (CAPP) and the Academic Board for advice and recommendation. The proposal, together with the recommendations from CAPP, the Academic Board and the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), is referred to the Vice-Chancellor for approval.

(8) The Academic Registrar may authorise variations to the start and/or end dates for a semester in the approved Academic Calendar, for specific cohorts of students. Faculties may submit variations for approval by completing the Calendar Variations Form. When determining variations, the Academic Registrar may consult CAPP.

(9) Study periods in an academic year, additional to semesters set in the Academic Calendar, are approved by the Academic Registrar. Student Enrolments and Fees is responsible for preparing the schedule of additional study periods, normally in the preceding year. Following consultation with relevant stakeholders, the schedule is submitted to the Academic Registrar for approval.

Enrolment Dates

(10) A study period comprises the following enrolment dates as prescribed by the Academic Registrar:

- a. the final date for addition of courses or alteration of enrolment;
- b. the census date; and
- c. the final date for cancellation of enrolment without incurring academic penalty (but financial liability remains).

(11) In addition to clause 10, the Academic Registrar may also prescribe:

- a. closing dates for enrolment in a study period; and/or
- b. closing dates for enrolments for:
 - i. specific programs or courses (including flexibly-scheduled courses); and/or
 - ii. specific classes of students.

(12) Student Enrolments and Fees is responsible for preparing the enrolment dates for the approval of the Academic Registrar, normally undertaken concurrently with the approval of the Academic Calendar or schedule of additional study periods as relevant.

(13) Subsequent amendments to enrolment dates are approved by the Academic Registrar and must be displayed on the UQ website at least two months prior to the date taking effect.
