"Honorary Professor" would usually apply in the case of a Professor or an Emeritus Professor of another university.
- (7) The suitability of a person proposed for conferral of an Adjunct title is not measured against academic standards.

The University may confer an 'Adjunct' title on a person of distinction and standing appropriate to the level from industry, Australian government, professions (other than academic) or wider community.

(8) Honorary and Adjunct titles include the titles listed below:

Where the Title Holder's University role focuses on teaching and/or service and engagement they will be awarded the title of Honorary or Adjunct:	Where the Title Holder's University role focuses on research they will be awarded the title of Honorary or Adjunct:	Indicative University equivalent Level

- (9) An Honorary or Adjunct Title Holder may simultaneously hold a position in the private sector, the non-governmental sector, or a post in the Australian system of government (including States, Territories, and the Commonwealth Government).

- (11) Individuals who are currently serving as foreign government officials will not be eligible for appointment to honorary or adjunct positions.
